

For the first time in history, more people on earth over 65 than under 5.